Opportunities for Teachers
- Cake Day Data in Science, a hands-on activity for students to learn about the science of baking and baking chemistry.
- Winter Window Project, an art project that explores the use of windows as a medium for artistic expression.
- S'Mores, a fun and educational activity where students can learn about the science of melting and the chemistry of chocolate.
- Chocolate Science, a hands-on activity where students can learn about the science of chocolate and how it is made.
- Winter Window Wax, a project where students can use wax to create winter scenes on their windows.
- Cake Day Data, a science project where students can learn about the science of baking and baking chemistry.

Tips for Teachers
- S'mores: A fun and educational activity where students can learn about the science of melting and the chemistry of chocolate.
- Cake Day Data: A hands-on activity for students to learn about the science of baking and baking chemistry.
- Winter Window Project: An art project that explores the use of windows as a medium for artistic expression.
- Chocolate Science: A hands-on activity where students can learn about the science of chocolate and how it is made.
- Winter Window Wax: A project where students can use wax to create winter scenes on their windows.

Opportunities for Volunteers
- S'mores: A fun and educational activity where students can learn about the science of melting and the chemistry of chocolate.
- Cake Day Data: A hands-on activity for students to learn about the science of baking and baking chemistry.
- Winter Window Project: An art project that explores the use of windows as a medium for artistic expression.
- Chocolate Science: A hands-on activity where students can learn about the science of chocolate and how it is made.
- Winter Window Wax: A project where students can use wax to create winter scenes on their windows.

Creatures Feature
- Top Things You Can Do to Help Save the Rainforest: A feature that explores the different things that can be done to help save the rainforest.
- What's New at JRF: A feature that highlights the latest updates and news at JRF.
- Saving our Rainforests: A feature that explores the importance of preserving our rainforests.

What's New at JRF
- School and Classrooms: A feature that provides information about the latest updates and news at JRF.
- Creating a Rainforest: A feature that explores the different ways that rainforests can be created.
- Top Animals You Can Help Save: A feature that explores the different animals that can be helped.

The website features a map of our rainforest, providing information about the different areas of the rainforest and the creatures that live there.